FINE FOR "JOY-RIDERS."

The construction of a fine automobile road between Carson City and Reno, by convict labor, will shortly be commenced. This is most significant, in view of the fact that $3000 has been expended for an automobile for the publicity committee, which automobile is being used by "Brother Ray" and Governor Oddie for junketing trips Renward and back. The road will be a most useful institution to the junketers. It will make their trip easy and pleasant. "Brother Ray" will surely be a "bear" when that convict-constructed road is completed, and keep the trail hot all of the time on his little "pleasure" excursions.

But, the auto was purchased out of the $25,000 that was appropriated by the last session to cover the needs of the publicity committee for the next two years. A fine start that, throwing away $3000 for an automobile for the use of the committee and then virtually turning the car over to the state officers for their own personal pleasure. This should be welcome news to the people of Nevada. Fine publicity work that. One-sixth of the appropriation already spent, and what do the people get in the way of publicity? What is the necessity of an automobile to a publicity committee, anyway? The business of that committee it would appear, is to advertise the state board; not to fly around in an automobile—even were the auto being used by any of the committee members.

GET 'EM ALL.

Curious turns the Lorimer case has taken, and strange, indeed, the medley of bribery and politics disclosed. If the investigation continues a few weeks we may be able to see a number of our statesmen in a new light.

It now appears that the lumber trust, having defeated the desire of President Taft to bring about a just reduction of the duty on lumber and having brought the election of Lorimer to the senate, also sent Senator Stephenson of Wisconsin, if the testimony given before the legislative committee at Springfield is to be believed.

Hines, collector of the "hush" fund, was exceedingly boastful of his success in accomplishing the election of Stephenson, according to the statements attributed to him. He was proud that he had been able to place both Stephenson and Lorimer in the senate, and was jubilant that they had agreed to stand for the maintenance of a prohibitive import tax on lumber.

Thus far there has been no mention of the name of La Follette, yet the insurgent radical and Senator Stephenson were for years the closest of political allies in their home state. In fact it was Stephenson's money that financed La Follette's campaign when he first began to turn the politics of Wisconsin upside-down; and Senator Stephenson could never have put up a more unopposed fight to protect the interests of the lumber trust than did Senator La Follette. Let the whole story be told. The committee at Springfield is doing a good work. Lorimer must be ousted, and undoubtedly will be. But let the records of the other statesmen in whose political ambitions the lumber trust was so deeply concerned also be uncovered.

RAILROADS INDICTED.

The United States grand jury, sitting in Cleveland, Ohio, is playing no favorites in its probe into charges of rebating. Already ten indictments have been returned against four iron-ore carrying roads entering Cleveland; two, it being alleged, being guilty of conspiring to violate the Elkins law. Three of the "higher-ups" among the officials have also felt the sting of the grand jury. They being Daniel R. Hanna, R. L. Ireland and M. A. Hanna, all officials of the M. A. Hanna company of Cleveland. The two Hannas are son of the late Markus Aurelius Hanna, boss of republican national convention, maker of presidents, etc., etc.

This is as it should be. These men are evidently guilty of the violation of the laws of the land. They have undoubtedly committed a crime. At least the evidence points in that direction. And they should be placed on trial, as would ordinary criminals, and, if found guilty, be made to suffer for their crimes. Not as is usually the case, by paying a large fine, but by imprisonment. Payment of fines with these men would simply be a joke and give encouragement for further violation of the law. The action of the federal grand jury is to be commended and it now remains for justice to be allowed to take her course.

'Tis said an Eagle can go twenty-eight days without food—but there is no record of one of them every going that long between drinks.

TO MOVE THE CAPITAL.

Considerable underground work and wire-pulling is at present going on towards taking a vote of the people, two years hence, relative to the removal of the capital from Carson City. It is more than likely that the vote will result in such removal, and that four years hence the capital will be removed. What will Carson City be then?

And, while no particular town has as yet been mentioned in connection with the movement, there are many scattered throughout the state of Nevada that would be much more desirable than the present location of the seat of government.

With the removal of the state officials from Carson it is more than likely that that burg would wither up and pass away. It would become a credit to Goldsmith's "Deserted Village." In passing, it might be asked, what would then become of the road between Carson and Reno, to be constructed by convicts for the benefit of the state officials?

RENO GALL.

Intense gall is evidenced in the suggestion that Reno's July 4th celebration be called a "Golden Wedding," of the marriage of Washoe to Nevada. Nothing doing on that proposition, as Nevada has long since repudiated Washoe, taken advantage of the Reno divorce mart, applied for and received separation from the bond of matrimony. And is now a respectable young person unwilling to associate with such as Washoe. So long as Reno is looking around for suggestions for a name, we would suggest "Divorce Fiesta" or "Carnival of Shame."

RENO HORRIFIED.

The Reno papers tell us that it has become necessary to remove the restricted district of that city on account of its being within 800 yards of a church or school. Horrors of horrors! Restricted district in Reno—that is most amusing! Surely it does not mean the "colony" circle.

We cannot take much stock in the professions of a number of the insurgents in congress that they desire the democratic free list, or several of its items, incorporated in the reciprocity bill, in the event that measure is returned by the senate to the house for amendment. They must know that by insistence upon such a course they would defeat reciprocity.

The naval academy must apologize, by order of Secretary Meyer, to the young lady whose presence was objected to at a cadet hop because she is living in some salaried capacity in the home of a lieutenant commander. She is the daughter of a professor at Yale, and the snobbish objection to her made a nasty uproar, the result of which is the enforced apology.

Nothing slow about that native of Switzerland who has addressed a letter to Governor Oddie, addressing him as "President of the Grand Council of the State of Nevada, U. S. A. Very Honored President," making application for the position of hangman. He states that he is a butcher; which should qualify him for the position.

The republicans of the house who voted for Canadian reciprocity voted also for the rider that President Taft is authorized and requested to secure more of it. But this isn't a democratic rider, it is President Taft's; in fact, he wanted to add to the reciprocal list in the agreement voted on.

The ball team composed of Japs that is now making a tour of this country from the University of Keie is said to be anxious to secure a game in Reno. Possibly some of the members of the team are married men and figure on making a trip to Reno in order that they may establish a "residence."

There are getting to be so many sensations in the Lorimer case that sensation has become commonplace. The case when the senate voted to retain Lorimer in his seat amounted to nothing compared with the case as now developed.

Bleached flour is now under the ban of the law in Idaho; and it should be so everywhere; for like the polishing of rice, the bleaching of flour takes from the product much of its nourishing value.

The Madero faction, it appears, is distrustful of Gen. Reyes, who, it is thought, will on his return from Paris, influence Diaz against concessions. A hard lot, these Mexicans, among one another.

King George V. is said to have revived the court rule of his grandmother, Queen Victoria, that no divorced person shall be presented. But even this will not keep divorcees away from the coronation display.

What a glorious time Carrie Nation would have had could she have participated in those champagne riots in France and helped to smash a few million bottles of wine.

The Kansas City baseball pitcher who quit drinking and smoking and then began to win games is of more value as a temperance argument than a hundred sermons.

A San Francisco waiter who has saved up his tips is going to the coronation in London. Presumably he will now tip, too.

With $190,000 in real money in his pockets Jack Johnson ought to be able to see Europe in comfortable style.

The kind of reciprocity the trusts want is that they expected to get in their $100,000 deal with Lorimer.
